EDITOR'S NOTES

I love publishing the October issue. The costumes and all of the possibilities...wonderful.

I will say that this issue is a little more laid back than some of the issues from the past but I think it still rocks!

We have Exotika with her very first cover. She has a really amazing Jungle Woman pictorial that I'm sure you will enjoy.

Ashley, who we have been waiting to feature as Model of the Month.

Then we feature back to back pictorials featuring two of our regulars. Hollie as our Warrior Princess and Miss Jenna as Gabriella Gore - I named them myself, thank you.

Big shout outs to Richard Rendon and Mike McKee for these great sets.

Last but not least we feature Ms. Sapphire in Latex Wonder Women - yep, I named this one too.

On the writing side HW has some of the Bucket List of haunted places that she would like to visit.

The election is next month and we make an argument of the candidate that TFM endorses.

America's Top Model star Lisa D'Amato let her fans get SUPER up close and personal when the reality star livestreamed the birth of her son. WOW!

Thick ass Serena Williams gave us something else to look at when she put her cleavage on display while arriving at a fashion show in Milan.

Can someone please tell me that model Claudia Galanti boobs aren't real. Her breast are so perfectly perky that it doesn't matter that she hardly has an ass.

Some guys have all the...wait! That's a woman. Courtney Stodden has gone gay. There's nothing wrong with that but I bet you that her new extremely unattractive "beau" has VERY deep pockets.

Victoria's Secret model Stella Maxwell let loose at a Love Magazine party in London Can it really be called a nip slip if the entire boob is out?

Elisabetta Gregoraci is Gregogorgeous - Here's a shot of her captured on a balcony in St. Tropez. Friends this is what a model looks like!

And now TFM presents your Kim Kardashian moment...

This moment has been brought to you by the letter K.

What exactly do you do when a beauty like America's Top Model Hadassah Richardson is in the middle of a wardrobe change - keep the camera ready, duh!

Looks like Mimi is trying to get into the online skin mix, posting a bathtub photo on Instagram - in full make-up. I would give her sh*t for being so old but we're the same age lol. Is she Single?

Khloe Kardashian has a whole lotta ass. If they ever figure out a way to bring the Kardashian booty to market in the form of a pill or some energy drink., they'll be a family of zillionaires. WOW!

No, these are not wax figures or some guys bad photo shop joke, this actually happened. First Lady Michelle Obama actually hugged Former POTUS George W. Bush during the opening ceremony of the African American History Museum. Considering the trailer trash that the GOP has running now, George W. deserves some love.

Talk about needing some love. Corey Feldman was brought to tears after his heart felt performance was relentlessly mocked online. The babes were hot, his singing was not. But we still love him.

Story of the Month

Say it isn't so! Brad and Angelina have split. We last heard that Angelina has started blocking Brad's phone calls. But when you think about it, they've been together for 12 years while only married for two so someone in the pairing knew what was up. At the end of the day the marriage just didn't work. Meanwhile, Pitt's first wife Jennifer Aniston feels it's "Karma."

MISSY MARTINEZ

This very curvaceous Latina hails from California aka the porn capital of the world.

Believe it or not, she became interested in the world of porn during an adult film convention that she attended while she was still in college.

From there she went on to star in a few girl/girl films before going full on boy/girl. Her G/G scenes earned her an AVN award for Best All-Girl scene in 2012. I love the lips and the angle of this selfie...very sexy!

Q & A

Top Floor Magazine answers the questions submitted to the Playboy Advisor

When I jerk off my boyfriend while licking his balls and sliding a finger up his ass, He laughs uncontrollably as he climaxes. Why is that? - C.G., San Bernardino, California

Well, he's probably laughing because of the triple whammy you're hitting him with. Jerking him off, licking his balls AND sticking a finger up his ass...WoW! Seriously, there is something about the ass hole that triggers an emotional responses. Having my salad tossed brings tears to my eyes every time it happens. It's not because it doesn't feel good. It's almost too confusing to explain how it feels. That's what's happening to your boyfriend, it's an uncontrollable response to having several erogenous zones stimulated at the same time.

My boyfriend and I have been living together for seven months. A few weeks ago I found a sex tape of him and his ex having sex. I watched a few minutes of it out of curiosity. Three weeks later I decided that I wanted to tape us having sex. During that session he kept saying things either to me or to the camera that he had said in the tape with his ex. In some instances it was verbatim. Should I be offended, or should I assume he says these things when there is a camera on regardless of whom he is with? - L.A., Orlando, Florida

I would say the latter. However, the entire situation sounds like you were looking for a problem. First, you find something that I assume your boyfriend didn't have the tape sitting out on the coffee table...so you had to be snooping. Then instead of just setting it aside, you decide to watch it even though it was clearly marked. If it wasn't, you would be asking a totally different question or would have just broke up with him. You sit and watch it and because it's mere existence was eating you up inside, you decided that you had to even the score by recording your own sex tape. Then, while you're having sex mind you, you decide to critique the guy on what he is saying. I'm sure that if you would have come clean and admitted to him that you had watched his sex tape, he would have probably had a completely different set of banter for you and yours. Shame on you. You've created a problem in your relationship where there shouldn't have been, had you decided to mind your business.

In the News

Pot smoker Matthew Little has been banned from riding the bus in the town of Bremerton, Washington for six months because of the strong odor that he emits from his habit. Despite the fact that there are other passengers who reek of cat urine, feces or just plain old body odor, they've banned Little for the smell of ganja.

What is more ingenious than sausage with Viagra? I would say NOTHING! Guys like to grill sausage and I can just imagine all the creative recipes that we can create that will give us that little extra UMP in the bedroom. The sausage was created to bring more awareness to erectile dysfunction which can lead to depression and suicide in men.

The East Carolina fans boo'd their own band when several band members decided to take a knee during the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. It's a damn shame that folks would turn on their own when it comes to bringing attention to the national mistreat of people of color in this country. Wake up Carolina!

Opinion

Who misses this guy?

I have to admit that when W. left office I had mixed feelings. I was half happy to see him leave but the other half almost felt sorry for the guy. Having been "voted" into office by the Supreme Court, there were people throwing eggs at his car at the inauguration for Gods sake.

He left office with a visibly insincere smile on his face, knowing that the entire country must have been thinking "Good riddance". Even the people that he thought of as friends, completely distanced themselves from him during the previous election. Oh, how times have changed! Now, those same people are supporting a candidate in their party who recently suggested that his supporters try to locate one of Bill Clinton's sex tapes. Donald Trump, or as I like to call him - The trailer trash candidate, makes W. look like Ghandi. Win or lose, Trump will leave the GOP with a political black eye that will never heal.

TEXAS CHAINSAW MASSACRE

Loosely based on the Ed Gein story - When Sally (Marilyn Burns) hears that her grandfather's grave may have been vandalized, she and her paraplegic brother, Franklin (Paul A. Partain), set out with their friends to investigate. After a detour to their family's old farmhouse, they discover a group of crazed, murderous outcasts living next door. As the group is attacked one by one by the chainsaw-wielding Leatherface (Gunnar Hansen), who wears a mask of human skin, the survivors must do everything they can to escape.

IN THEATRES

Don't Breathe

Rocky, Alex and Money are three Detroit thieves who get their kicks by breaking into the houses of wealthy people. Money gets word about a blind veteran who won a major cash settlement following the death of his only child. Figuring he's an easy target, the trio invades the man's secluded home in an abandoned neighborhood. Finding themselves trapped inside, the intruders must fight for their lives after making a shocking discovery.

Lights Out

When Rebecca (Teresa Palmer) left home, she thought that her childhood fears were behind her. As a young girl growing up, she was never really sure of what was real when the lights went out at night. Now, her little brother Martin (Gabriel Bateman) is experiencing the same unexplained and terrifying events that jeopardized her safety and sanity.

The Girl on the Train

Commuter Rachel Watson (Emily Blunt) catches daily glimpses of a seemingly perfect couple, Scott and Megan, from the window of her train. One day, Watson witnesses something shocking unfold in the backyard of the strangers' home. Rachel tells the authorities what she thinks she saw after learning that Megan is now missing and feared dead. The troubled woman begins her own investigation.

The Purge: Election Year

As a young girl, Sen. Charlie Roan survived the annual night of lawlessness that took the lives of her family members. As a presidential candidate, Roan is determined to end the yearly tradition of blood lust once and for all. When her opponents hatch a deadly scheme, the senator finds herself trapped on the streets of Washington, D.C., just as the latest Purge gets underway. Now, it's up to Leo Barnes (Frank Grillo), her head of security, to keep her alive during the next 12 hours of mayhem.

I'm not really sure if there was a political statement in this film or if they were trying to make one.

What I do know is that it's full of the type of energy that will give you anxiety while you cling to the edge of your seat.

Good film.

Available on DVD

Tucker and Dale vs Evil

Two scruffy pals' (Tyler Labine, Alan Tudyk) backwoods vacation takes a bloody turn when ignorant college students mistake them for a pair of murderous hillbillies. This is a very well thought out comedy that just happens to be a blood and guts film.

Stan Heilsing

Stan, a slacker video store clerk, his sexy girlfriend, best friend and an exotic dancer take a detour into a town cursed by the biggest monsters in movie history. If it's not apparent by the knock off costumes, this is one of the worst "Horror" comedies EVER!!! NO...NO...NO!

Throwback Album of the Month

THE TOP SELLING ALBUM OF ALL TIME. Released November of 1982 with a production budget of $750,000 the album went on to be certified platinum an astounding 32 times. In case you don't know what that means...it sold 32 million copies in the United States alone. The track Billie Jean is still in heavy rotation; it is played on over 90% of the world's radios and receives more than 250,000 spins per week in clubs around the world.

When we ran this as a throwback last month, we weren't really thinking about which album would be a great pick for the Halloween Edition. It's rare that we pick the same album back to back (in fact, it's never happened) but this one's worth it.

HOTTIE OF THE MONTH

Jessica Kylie

Jessica Kylie Zepeda, formally known as Miss Rabbit, is a culturally diverse, curvaceous bombshell. Born on April 30, in Houston, Texas, this half Irish, half Latin accomplished talent is overstepping her boundaries. While juggling the demands of being a single mother, her astute personality and ambition allow her to travel the world, model, and grace the covers of multiple magazines, all with an inexhaustible stride. Her initiative and easy going personality have allowed her to tap into new endeavors, such as being a personality on the latin television station, Mun 2. This is not the limit for this divine silhouette. She intends to continue and humbly further her career as a model and aspiring actress, all while starting her own clothing line which allows her to manifest her love for fashion. With the look of a Jennifer Lopez with twice the body, Jessica is bound to go far.

WHO'D YOU RATHER?

Jennifer Tilly

Jennifer Tilly (born Jennifer Ellen Chan on September 16, 1958 - jeezus I had no idea that she was that old - is a Canadian-American actress and poker player. She is a World Series of Poker Ladies' Event bracelet winner. She was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress for her role as Olive Neal in the film Bullets over Broadway (1994). Her other film roles include Made in America (1993), Bound (1996), Liar Liar (1997) and Bride of Chucky (1998). She has done extensive voice-over work including Celia in Monsters, Inc. (2001). She is the older sister of actress Meg Tilly. - wikipedia

I have always loved Jennifer's voice. I can't quite put my finger on it, it's like a mixture of sweet and innocent with a taste of sexy. That's not to mention her tendency to wear low cut tops. Wow!

She has been in a relationship with poker player Phil Laak since 2004.

In our poll she received 100% of the votes, making her this month who'd you rather.

Honey West Retro Presents

HONEY'S HAUNTED HOLLYWOOD HALLOWEEN BUCKET LIST

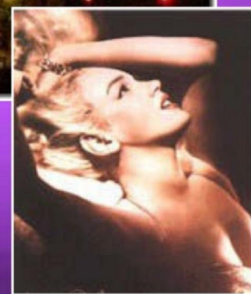

In last year's TFM Halloween issue, I shared my picks for Top 10 Sexiest Horror Flicks, and since Halloween is my all-time fav holiday, how could I resist making another spooky list? I love everything about Halloween, and I also love everything associated with Hollywood, so what better combination than a list of Hollywood locations I've always dreamed of visiting on Oct. 31 to scare the bleep outta myself! So, without further delay, here's a tour of my personal Haunted Hollywood Halloween Bucket List!

1. The Haunted Estate of Sex Goddess Jean Harlow - 9820 Easton Drive, Beverly Hills

This bizarre goth house looks haunted as hell! In fact, it's considered one of the most haunted homes in Hollywood. Trick or treating at this place must be a blast! Many strange, horrible events have happened here since it was built in the 1930's. I may be weird, but I'd love to spend the night here! Currently, it's a private residence, so I guess I'll never get the chance. But maybe a little séance in the street? Or drive by and shake hands with the undead spirits roaming the neighborhood? Famed sex symbol Jean Harlow lived here in the 1930's with her producer hubby, who committed suicide (or was murdered?) in the house. In the 1960's, famed hairdresser Jay Sebring (one of the Manson Family victims) owned the home just before his own gruesome death in 1969. Later, a child drowned in the pool and there were two more suicides. This place has some really bad karma! But that's what makes it the ultimate haunted Hollywood house!

2. Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel

Built in 1927, this is the oldest continually operating hotel in Los Angeles. A huge number of celebs have stayed at this iconic hotel - probably every famous star has been here at some point. In the 1980's it was spectacularly and elegantly renovated, and that's when the ghost sightings started, among them the ghost of Marilyn Monroe who often stayed in Suite 1200. They say her blonde image appeared in a full-length mirror that hung in her room. There's definitely something very spooky about this place, and guests report that a lot of odd things go on here! It would be way cool to spend Halloween in Marilyn's suite. Price tag: $1500 per night. Eeeek! I'll be a ghost before I have that kind of cash! But if I win the lottery, it's absolutely on my bucket list!

3. The Viper Room - Sunset Blvd.

The Viper Room nightclub/bar opened in 1993. At that time, it was owned by Johnny Depp who bought it because of the crazy history at this location (gangster Bugsy Siegel used to hang out here in the 1940's). It's main claim to fame these days is because it's the spot where River Phoenix died of a drug overdose in 1993 on Halloween night. Depp would close The Viper room every Oct. 31 in memory of River Phoenix, but he hasn't owned the joint since 2004. Unfortunately, the current owner hasn't continued the Halloween memorial tradition. Bummer! So, is The Viper Room haunted? Who knows! But it's still a very cool (and dark!) place with a fabulous history that would be super fun/scary to visit on Halloween, not only to see where River Phoenix breathed his last, but to absorb the amazing vibes of this location. There's gotta be at least one or two haunted souls lurking around, don't ya think?

4. The Chateau Marmont Hotel - Sunset Strip, Hollywood

Hollywood seems to be full of odd, castle-like hotels that I think Dracula would adore - especially on Halloween! The Chateau Marmont, built in 1929, is another L.A. "haunt" that's always had a lot of rumors about its ghostly inhabitants. This is where John Belushi died of a drug overdose in 1982. So maybe John is prowling the hallways? It's one of the most exclusive hotels in L.A. so it's not cheap to hang out with the elite ghosts here. If you want to feel really haunted and frightened, all you have to do is look at their outrageously expensive room rates!

5. The Queen Mary - Long Beach, CA

I've heard stories from various people in L.A. about the Queen Mary ship, which has been docked in Long Beach, CA since 1967. Even though it's not technically "Hollywood", it's definitely one of the most haunted locations in the vicinity. Built in the 1930's, 49 people have died on the ship, and apparently many ghosts linger, especially in the closed off pool areas. The ship's annual "Dark Harbor" festivities on Halloween would be fun to check out, but I'd love to just get a room and wander the hallways at the stroke of midnight!

6. The House at The End of The Drive - The David Oman House, Cielo Drive

This contemporary style home was built in 1999 - it's claim to fame is that it stands a mere 200 feet from the former Sharon Tate home on 10050 Cielo Drive which was the site of the gruesome Manson Family murders of Tate and five others on Aug. 9, 1969.

The original Tate murder house was torn down in the 1980's (a massive mega mansion now stands in its place.) Oman claims that his home is haunted by the ghosts of Tate and her murdered friends.

Whether that's true or not, I guarantee that the gory history of this location makes it the perfect place to be scared completely out of your skull!

Name that film...

1. Psycho 2. Amityville Horror 3. The Shining 4. Poltergeist
5. The Haunting 6. Evil Dead 7. The Exorcist 8. Nightmare on Elm St.

By D.Dibrell

Hillary Rodham Clinton

Before you go to the next pictorial, hear me out.

But keep in mind if you're a Trump supporter, I'm probably going to offend you.

First, there have only been four Presidents that were voted into office without any prior experience.

Zachary Taylor, Ulysses S. Grant, Herbert Hoover and Dwight D. Eisenhower. Let's have a look at them.

Zachary Taylor

- A career officer in the United States Army
- Rose to the rank of major general
- He became popular from several victories in the Mexican-American war

Ulysses S Grant

- Commanding General of the United States Army (1864–69)
- Worked closely with President Abraham Lincoln to lead the Union Army to victory over the Confederacy in the American Civil War
- Led the Republicans in an effort to remove and end Confederate nationalism and slavery and protect African-American citizenship

Herbert Hoover

- One of only two Presidents (along with William Howard Taft) who had neither been elected to a national political office or governorship, nor served as a military general
- Supported prohibition
- Was President just prior to the Great Depression
- Hoover is usually ranked lower than average among U.S. Presidents.

Dwight D. Eisenhower

- Was a five-star general in the United States Army during World War II and served as Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces in Europe
- In 1951, he became the first Supreme Commander of NATO
- After World War II, Eisenhower served as Army Chief of Staff under President Harry S. Truman and then accepted the post of President at Columbia University

Now, which one of the four would you say that Donald Trump has the most in common with?

Trump is being held up as this huge charismatic businessman with the power to save America. He barely has the power to save himself. With a list of failures longer than a five year old's Christmas list, he is a candidate that's full of bullshit not promise.

- Trump Airline - He purchased an airline that was run so poorly that it caused Trump to default on his loans and return ownership to the creditors.
- Trump Vodka - The vodka was supposed to be the epitome of vodkas. It was never able to compete with Grey Goose and eventually stopped production.
- Bankruptcy - Trump Entertainment Resorts had to file for bankruptcy not once, twice but three times. The famous Taj Mahal has had to file for bankruptcy. In 2004, Trump Hotels & Casino Resorts filed for bankruptcy. Then in 2009, Trump Entertainment Resorts filed for bankruptcy an amazing fourth time. How many times have you heard of Hilton filing for bankruptcy. The larger picture is that Trump took goods and services from people and then claimed he was too broke to pay them.
- Marriages - Trump had the nerve to imply that he might bring up Bill Clinton's indiscretions. That would have been comical coming from a man who has been married three times and ran around town with the woman who would become his second wife while the mother of his children sat at home. Then there is this hot mess. Melania Knauss is Trump hypocrisy at it's very best. His anti-immigrant rhetoric is a joke considering he is married to a woman from Slovenia. Where's her green card? Will Trump kick her out of the country too? Until she is able to prove that she is worthy of being an American. Michelle Obama is the ONLY First Lady with a college degree and we are going to replace her with this?

- Trump Mortgage - In April 2006, Trump announced that he would be opening a mortgage company. Trump told CNBC, "Who knows more about financing than me?" Sound familiar? It took about 18 months for this Trump business venture to flop. It had a little something to do with the failing housing market but just maybe it had something to do with the leadership. The person Trump selected to run the company claimed to be a top executive at an investment bank when in reality the highest position that he had ever held was as a registered broker. A position that he had only had for six days.
- USFL - One of the Trump failures that I'm surprised hasn't been brought up more during the campaign. The man destroyed an entire football league. When the USFL started it featured some of the more successful players that were forced to move to the NFL after the USFL went belly up. Players like - Herschel Walker, Doug Flutie, Mike Rozier, Jim Kelly, Steve Young and Reggie White. Then just when the USFL was beginning to make its mark and recruit big name talent - in comes Trump. The NFL tried to take a league that played its season in the spring (perfect time) when the NFL players were still in camp, to the fall. Yes, Trump wanted to go head to head with the NFL and he used some of his "clout" to get other USFL owners on board. He even went as far as suing the NFL in an antitrust lawsuit. Going against everything the USFL, whose goal was to never compete with the NFL, Trump tried to go head to head with them and was rewarded with a payment of $1 from the NFL and completely devastated USFL.

Salon reports that Trump is doing to the GOP exactly what he did to the USFL. It's not so much about the company but about Trump getting his way.

What does that say about how he would lead this country?

The man has no filter!

While on the other hand we have Hillary Clinton.

- Speech in China - Hillary spoke out about women's rights in China where women were being abused

- (cont.) stating that “Women’s rights are human rights.” She was speaking directly to the dowry deaths and China’s one child policy. The speech was listed number 35 in the Top 100 Speeches of the 20th century and has been influential in the Woman’s Rights movement.
- She played a role in killing America’s number one terrorist, Osama Bin Laden.
- She helped to implement some of the toughest sanctions on Iran which led to signing of the Iran nuclear deal.
- Hillary was part of nearly every foreign policy victory during the Obama administration. She took after the George W. administration nearly destroyed America’s reputation when it came to foreign policy.
- As First Lady she helped to create Chip Children’s Health Insurance Program) which combined with Medicaid provides health care for more millions of children in America.
- As a First Lady she worked with Ted Kennedy and Orrin Hatch to create the SCHIP program which expanded medical coverage to millions of lower income children.
- She helped to secure $21 billion in federal aid to help New York rebuild after 9/11.
- The Pediatric Research Act - Clinton authored this law as a Senator that requires drug makers to study the products used on children. It has improved the health of millions of children with diseases ranging from HIV to asthma.

Breaking

News

Don has done it again! Before I finished this article The Washington Post has released a video where Trump can be heard making lewd comments about Access Hollywood host Nancy O’Dell. Trump can be heard saying the he “Moved on her and I failed,” Trump says. “I’ll admit it. I did try and fuck her. She was married.”

“And I moved on her very heavily,” Trump is later heard saying. “In fact, I took her out furniture shopping. She wanted to get some furniture. I said, ‘I’ll show you where they have some nice furniture.’”

“I moved on her like a bitch, but I couldn’t get there. And she was married,” he adds.

He goes on to say “Then all of a sudden I see her, she’s now got the big phony tits and everything. She’s totally changed her look.”

“You know I’m automatically attracted to beautiful — I just start kissing them. It’s like a magnet. Just kiss. I don’t even wait.”

“And when you’re a star, they let you do it,” Trump says. “You can do anything.”

“Whatever you want,” says another voice, apparently Bush’s.

“Grab them by the pussy,” Trump says. “You can do anything.”

And this is the person that some of the deplorable among us want to vote in to lead our country.

I turned on the television just as there was talk that Trump should drop out of the race. Of course, we know that he never would.

The part that disturbs me the most is that this man, this trailer trash of a man, has called for a wall to be built to keep the Mexicans out, called Rosie O’Donnell and former Miss Universe Alicia Machado pigs, has called other women dogs and slobes, said that women who get an abortion should be criminally charged, has promised to put together a deportation force, claimed he knows more than the Generals and dissed a Muslim Gold Star family...but he says “grab them by the pussy” and the entire GOP freaks the fuck out.

Really?

John McCain

“Cindy and I will not vote for Donald Trump. I have never voted for a Democratic presidential candidate and we will not vote for Hillary Clinton. We will write in the name of some good conservative Republican who is qualified to be President.”

Sen. John Thune

Donald Trump should withdraw and Mike Pence should be our nominee effective immediately.

Utah Rep. Jason Chaffetz

"I'm out. I can no longer in good conscience endorse this person for president. It is some of the most abhorrent and offensive comments that you can possibly imagine."

Alabama Rep. Martha Roby

"Donald Trump's behavior makes him unacceptable as a candidate for president, and I won't vote for him."

Alabama Rep. Bradley Byrne

"Donald Trump's comments regarding women were disgraceful and appalling," Byrne said in a statement. He echoed the call for Mike Pence to replace Trump at the top of the ticket.

Missouri Rep. Ann Wagner

"I have committed my short time in Congress to fighting for the most vulnerable in our society. As a strong and vocal advocate for victims of sex trafficking and assault, I must be true to those survivors and myself and condemn the predatory and reprehensible comments of Donald Trump." She continued, "I withdraw my endorsement and call for Governor Pence to take the lead so we can defeat Hillary Clinton."

Illinois Rep. Rodney Davis

"The abhorrent comments made by Donald Trump are inexcusable and go directly against what I've been doing in Washington to combat assaults on college campuses. Because of this, I am rescinding my support for Donald Trump and asking to have my name removed from his agriculture advisory committee."

Nevada Rep. Cresent Hardy

"I will no longer support the guy at the head of the ticket for the Republican nomination."

Nevada Rep. Joe Heck

"I can no longer look past the pattern of behavior and comments that have been made by Donald Trump," the three-term congressman said at a rally in Las Vegas, reported Roll Call. "Therefore, I cannot in good conscience continue to support Donald Trump."

New Hampshire Sen. Kelly Ayotte

"I'm a mom and an American first, and I cannot and will not support a candidate for president who brags about degrading and assaulting women."

Former presidential candidate and Utah Gov.

Jon Huntsman

"In a campaign cycle that has been nothing but a race to the bottom — at such a critical moment for our nation — and with so many who have tried to be respectful of a record primary vote, the time has come for Governor Pence to lead the ticket."

I say to these folks...too late now.

You've made your bed and now it's time to lay in it. You knew what you were buying into when he call Mexicans a bunch of rapist - if you didn't back out then because you wanted the White House so bad that you were willing to lie in the dirt with dogs...well, I hope you enjoy the fleas.

Sure, Clinton isn't the perfect candidate. I'm not that much of a fan either. I'm especially turned off by Bill Clinton having the opportunity to return to the White House. It's not ideal and brings the word dynasty to mind. However, in this election it's just something that we have to look past and put the most qualified person in office.

What I don't understand about this election cycle is how it seems that all the rules have been thrown out the window. When you look back at previous candidates and what it took for the public to excuse them as a candidate, Trump seems to be given a pass on EVERYTHING!

Romney was effected by his 47 percent comments, John McCain for his VP pick, Kerry for flip-flopping.

Now, we have a guy that starts off his campaign with a publicity stunt that carried him all the way to the nomination.

There are people who proudly walk around wearing Trump across their chest, while the more reasonable among us scratch our heads and try to figure out why they aren't ashamed.

Maybe we haven't come as far as some thought we had.

When it comes to Trump, I'll leave you with the word of Robert De Niro - "He's so blatantly stupid, he's a punk, he's a dog, he's a pig, he's a con — a bullshit artist. A mutt who doesn't know what he's talking about, doesn't do his homework, doesn't care, thinks he's gaming society, doesn't pay his taxes. He's an idiot."

That's why we are supporting Clinton.

Life

A nun and a priest were crossing the Sahara desert on a camel. On the third day out the camel suddenly dropped dead without warning. After dusting themselves off, the nun and the priest surveyed their situation. After a long period of silence, the priest spoke. "Well sister, this looks pretty grim." "I know, father." "In fact, I don't think it likely that we can survive more than a day or two." "I agree." "Sister, since we are unlikely to make it out of here alive, would you do something for me?" "Anything father." "I have never seen a woman's breasts and I was wondering if I might see yours." "Well, under the circumstances I don't see that it would do any harm." The nun opened her habit and the priest enjoyed the sight of her shapely breasts, commenting frequently on their beauty. "Sister would you mind if I touched them?" She consented and he fondled them for several minutes. "Father, could I ask something of you?" "Yes sister?" "I have never seen a man's penis. Could I see yours?" "I supposed that would be OK," the priest replied lifting his robe. "Oh father, may I touch it?" This time the priest consented and after a few minutes of fondling he was sporting a huge erection. "Sister, you know that if I insert my penis in the right place, it can give life." "Is that true father?" "Yes it is, sister." "Then why don't you stick it up that camel's ass and lets get the hell out of here."

Long Dong

A guy decides to do something nice for his girlfriend before they leave on vacation so he gets her name tattooed on his penis. He comes home and shows it to her. She looks at it and says, "That's great, sweetie, but what is 'Wy'?" He tells her to rub it and as she does she sees it actually reads "Wendy." When they arrive at Montego Bay, the couple are walking along a nude beach and the boyfriend notices a black guy with "Wy" on his penis. He asks the man if he also has a girlfriend named Wendy. The black guy laughs and says, "Nah, mon, mine says 'Welcome to Jamaica have a nice day.'"

Doctors Advice

A man goes to his doctor complaining about migraines. His doctor tells him, "I also suffer from the same ailment. Every time I get one, I give my wife oral sex. When she has an orgasm, she tightens her legs around my head which gets rid of the pain. You should try it sometime." Two weeks later on a return visit, the patient tells his doctor, "Your suggestion worked and I'd like to tell you that you have a very nice house."

Foolish

Dylan was practicing his golf swing in his front yard when he swung a little too hard and sent the ball through his neighbors window. Dylan ran over and rang the doorbell three times. After no one answered for a few minutes, he opened the door to see broken glass everywhere, a lamp lying on the ground, and a huge fat Arabian man wearing a turban sitting on the couch. Dylan asked, "Who are you?" The fat man replied, "I am a genie you have freed from that lamp." Dylan questioned, "Oh man, do I get three wishes?" The genie replied, "Since you freed me by accident you only get two and I get one." Dylan thought about it and realized what he wanted, "I want to be the best golfer ever." The surprised genie said, "You sure? Most people wish for money, but okay. Now your wife gets one wish." Dylan brought over his wife who wished right away, "I want a million dollars every week of my life." The genie said, "Granted. And now for my wish, I have been cramped up in that lamp for many years so its been a while since I've been with a woman. I want one day of wild, crazy sex with your wife, Dylan." Dylan said, "No way!" The genie replied, "Not even for a million dollars a week?" Dylan turned to his wife, who said, "I guess for all that, I should. Well, not until Dylan leaves." Dylan said, "Okay, have fun, I guess," and left. Dylan's wife then proceeded to have wild sex for the rest of the day with the genie. When they were finished, the genie asked how old her husband was. She said, "Forty-five." The Genie laughed and said, "Isn't he a little old to be believing in genies?"

Get 'er done

Why did the Pakistani cross the road? Because the American government was subsidizing the construction of mango harvesting and preservation infrastructure in the region on the other side, allowing farmers with the necessary means to develop strong ties to American markets and earn significant profits.

Golf Pro

A young woman was taking golf lessons and had just started playing her first round of golf when she suffered a bee sting. Her pain was so intense that she decided to return to the clubhouse for medical assistance. The golf pro saw her heading back and said, "You are back early, what's wrong?" "I was stung by a bee!" she said. "Where?" he asked. "Between the first and second hole." she replied. He nodded and said, "Your stance is far too wide."
